THE KAY FAMILY

The first Kay in this country which we have found was Thomas Kay, Sr., by census information born in 1810 in England. To date he has not been found on a passenger list and we do not know from where in England he came. He may have been naturalized in Pennsylvania, where he first lived, but there are no records of naturalization for him in either Jennings or Jefferson Counties, Indiana. He probably arrived in Pennsylvania shortly after 1830, and apparently was in transit to Indiana in 1840 as we do not find him in census records for Pennsylvania, Ohio or Indiana at that time. Even if we knew where in Pennsylvania the family lived we might not be able to find the name of his first wife as marriages in that state were not required to be of record until after 1860. Mrs. Alston says he came with his only brother, John, but I believe this was Thomas Jr. about whom she speaks. However, there may have been another Kay of the same generation as Thomas, Sr. as there are records in Jennings and Jefferson Counties, In. of other Kays of the same age as those in Thomas Kay Sr.'s family whom we have not identified.

Deed Record H:217 contains the first land transaction to Thomas Kay, Sr.:

"This Indenture made and entered this Twelfth day of July one thousand Eight hundred and forty three Between Media A. Phillips and Elizabeth his wife of the County of Jennings and State of Ind. of the first part and Thomas Kay of the County of Jefferson and State of Ind. of the second part Witnesseth that the said Media A. And the said Media A. A photocopy of the record of this deed is enclosed herewith. This land was in Bigger Township, Jennings County, In. as is shown by the portion of a map of Jennings County of 1884. However the 1850 and 1860 census shows the family living in Montgomery Township of Jennings Co. and they may have lived in Paris Crossing. Thomas Kay, Sr. also owned land in Jefferson County, Indiana, the description of which is shown in a Petition to Sell in Thomas' estate.

By his first wife, whose name we do not know, he had three sons and a daughter. After her death he married again October 15, 1848, Nancy Spear, who was the mother of three sons. Thomas Kay, Sr. made his will May 8, 1861, and died prior to June 4, 1861, on which date his will was probated. His will is of record in Jennings County, Will Book I:471-474, as follows:

"Be it Remembered that on this 4th day of June at the June Term of the Jennings Court of Common Pleas Before the Honorable Ralph Aplewhite Judge of Said Court in open Court the Last Will & Testament (of Testament) of Thomas Kay, Late of Jennings County Deceased is filed and Due Proof of the Execution thereof is made to the Satisfaction of the court in accordance with the Statute in such case made & Provided & Said will is by The court admitted to probate & The Clerk of The court ordered to file & Record the same in the proper Record of Wills of this county Which will is contained in the Words & figures following to Wit:

(Note in the photocopy of the will enclosed that it was copied as "Ray" with what could appear to be Kay in the paragraph of proof by George Graston and the final paragraph of the Clerk. Note also that in all these records there is practically no punctuation.)

Thomas Kay, Jr., John Edmund Kay and Ellison Kay (called Harrison in the 1860 census record) were sons of Thomas Sr., and Nancy (Spear) Kay. By his first marriage Thomas Kay, Sr. had sons James, William and Henry, born in Pennsylvania, and a daughter, Manerva, born in Indiana. The four older children apparently had died prior to Thomas' death in 1861 and the daughters he mentioned in his Will, Elizabeth Kay and Hannah Greenwood, probably were wives of two of his older sons. No marriage records were found for Jennings or Jefferson Counties, or in any of the other surrounding counties and we do not know which of the sons married.

In Probate Order Book 3:163 of Jennings Co. there appears a petition by Jesse H. Cline, administrator with the will annexed of the Estate of Thomas Kay for sale of land of Thomas Kay.
This was heard November 10, 1863 and Hannah Greenwood, Elizabeth Kay, Thomas Kay, John Edmund Kay and Ellison Kay were named as heirs of Thomas Kay, Sr., the latter three minors. A photocopy of this record is attached, but it is obviously incomplete. Jesse H. Cline may have been a close friend, neighbor, or an attorney who was appointed administrator by the Court since Thomas did not name an Executor in his Will.

There was a later recorded Partition Suit of record in Probate Order Book 3:316-317, as follows:

There were several entries in the order books of claims and receipts for payment of claims, but exactly what portion of the land was ever given to Nancy (Spear) Kay could not be found. Even in the Final Account, made in November, 1865, there were no entries of payments made to any Kays. Obviously, there should have been an entry showing the payments of $5.00 to each of the "daughters" of Thomas Kay, and, according to the will one-third of the personal property should have gone to Nancy with the balance to the sons.

At least one portion of the land in Jennings Co. was set off to Thomas Jr., John and Elison. Deed Record 25:150 shows:

"This Indenture Witnesseth that Thomas Kay and Lucy A. Kay husband and wife and John Kay and Nancy Darthula Kay of Jefferson County, and State of Indiana convey and Warrent to John E. Wykoff and Clara Bell Wykoff his wife of Jennings County, in the State of Indiana for the sum of Seven Hundred Dollars for the following Real Estate in Jennings County, in the State of Indiana, towit: The northeast quarter of the south east quarter of section twenty-four (24) in Township No. five (5) North of Range eight east containing forty acres more or less. Also a certain tract of (land) lying and being in the County of Jennings and State of Indiana and described as follows. The north half of the Southeast quarter of section no. twenty-four (24) in Town five (5) north of Range eight (8) east containing forty (40) acres more or less.

While the deed for the Jennings County land was dated October 18, 1883, it was not recorded until March 31, 1884 which would be why the land appeared on the Atlas of Jennings Co., In. of 1884 in the name of the Heirs of Thos. Kay. The land could not have been sold much before that time as Elison, the youngest heir, would not have been 21 until 1880. John would have been of age in 1874, so it must be concluded that Elison Kay died shortly before his 21st birthday and at that time, or shortly thereafter, Thomas Jr. and John sold the land.

An attempt was made to find the family of Nancy (Spear) Kay, but to date only marriage records of persons who were contemporary with Nancy and possible brothers and sister are available. In 1820 there was a Daniel Spear in Jefferson Co., and Andrew Spear was resident in Clarke Co. Abstracts of newspapers of Jefferson Co., In. state that Mary J. Spear who married Alfred Hynes in 1855 was the daughter of Dr. Andrew Spear, but this is no proof of Nancy's parents. We do know, from the 1880 census, that Nancy's father was born in Virginia and her mother was born in New Jersey.

No cemetery records could be found in Jennings or Jefferson Co. for Thomas Sr., his first wife, for Nancy, nor any of the older family, nor for Elison or John Kay. It is possible the older boys returned to Ohio or Pa. and were married there, which may account for a part of this vacuum of information. However, Clifford Miller has mentioned a cemetery in Deputy, In., which should be checked out.

One of the two "daughters" mentioned in Thomas Kay, Sr.'s will apparently married a Johnson, but the record was not in Jennings Co. In 1880 Nancy (Spear) Kay had in her household a granddaughter, Cary A. Johnson, age 11, born in Indiana, who must have been a daughter of either Elizabeth Kay or Hannah Greenwood.

There are few records of John Edmund Kay, the only other of the two surviving children of Thomas Kay, Sr. John married 25 August 1878, Nancy Darthula James and he and Nancy Darthula signed the deed of 1883. The marriage record for their daughter Edna, on December 24, 1907 to George E. White was found in Jennings Co., In. Edna lived at North Vernon at that time. In 1880 John and his wife and one daughter, Bessie D., born in July 1879, were living with his mother. This would be Daune Kay who, in 1900, lived in Lovett Township, Jennings Co. In. in the home of William McGuire. In that census Daune was called the daughter of William McGuire which suggests John had died and his widow, Nancy Darthula, had married McGuire. Also in the 1900 census of Jennings Co. there was Burney Kay, born in September 1881 in Indiana. It seems reasonable to conclude Burney was also a child of John Edmund and Nancy D. (James) Kay.

Thomas Kay, Jr., son of Thomas, Sr. and Nancy (Spear) Kay, was born in Jennings Co., In. October 27, 1849, and died there October 14, 1915. He married in Jennings Co., In. December 24, 1875, Lucy A. Sawyer, born July 20, 1855, probably in Jennings Co., the daughter of William H. and Ruth G. Sawyer. Lucy had two brothers, Samuel G. and Lucius B., and a sister, Leacy W. Sawyer. In Jennings Co. Probate Order Book B:178/9 there was recorded September 18, 1833, the will of Moses Sawyer. While William H. Sawyer was not named in that will since Moses named only his wife, Lucy, and sons, John and Nathan, and "the children", it seems probable that Lucy was a granddaughter of Moses and Lucy Sawyer.

Thomas and Lucy were living in 1880 in the town of LeMaster, in Lancaster Township, Jefferson Co., In., but they returned to Paris Crossing, which seems to have been the family home of the Kays. They had three sons and three daughters: Walter, Fred, Laura, Everett, Nellie and Clara. Of these children only Clara, now over 90 years of age, is living.

Shortly after Lucy died on February 20, 1894, Thomas Jr. took his children to live in Fitzgerald, Ga. Later on the boys returned to Indiana.

While Clifford Miller insists his typewriter doesn't spell too well, he has written most interestingly of Thomas Kay, Jr. and of his descendants. Copies have been inserted following this page.

December 12, 1973.

Dearest Geneva:

Received your Christmas card and letter. You say that Charles would like to know where the Kays ^{came} from. Jack and Hester were quite close to Uncle Walter Kay and went to Paris Crossing a number of times but that may have been before he met you, but I don't think so. My mother, probably Aunt Clara, Uncle Walter, Fred and Everett, were born, I believe in Deputy, Indiana. Paris Crossing was a railroad stop on the line from Indianapolis to Louisville. Paris Crossing was where the Kays lived and Uncle Fred and Everett ran a butcher shop. Paris Crossing was just a stop something like Mclott on the line, not much there. It isn't even on a highway anymore unless they have changed it. Deputy is right near there. They left there and went to Fitzgerald, Georgia, at the same time the Millers went there from Missouri. I know more about the Kays than I do the Millers. Right at the time when I should have been learning, I left home and moved to Newtown. With the exception of some Miller cousin, whereabouts, unknown, there isn't any Miller family tie.

Fitzgerald, Georgia, was formed by a man from Ohio who went down there and bought several hundred acres of pine covered land. Divided it up into 10 acre parcels and everyone paid 100 ~~each~~ for a lot. On a certain day, at a big gathering, the purchasers first drew for the order of lot drawing. Then number one drew out a number from a hat, and he was given title to the acreage as designated on a map. Grandpa Kay and Grandpa Miller each drew ten acres. Grandpa Kay wasn't a father at heart, so he sold his and bought others for a fraction of what they paid because many of them wanted to go back to Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Missouri, Iowa, where they came from. Finally grandpa, Uncle Fred and Uncle Everett and Uncle Walter went back to Indiana. Grandpa Kay used to spend his summers at Paris Crossing, Indiana, and fished the streams. The sportsmen from Indianapolis would come down and hire him as a fisherman guide, which was walking in three days but knowing where to go. Streams weren't very deep, but the sportsmen wanted to catch fish. Then about the latter part of September, Grandpa Kay would come back to Georgia and move in with the Millers, my mother and father. In about two weeks, he used to take a canvas tent, a "larder" box, bed and cooking equipment and go down to the swamps on the Okefenokee River where he lived all winter, catching catfish and trapping for coon, skunk, otter, possum, which he used as food and dried the skins and then shipped them to Nashville, Tennessee, Louisville, or Roanoke Virginia, for sale. He would earn $300 to $400 each fall. I spent every week end at his camp my dad and mother would let me spend. Could ride my bicycle ten miles to the camp over sand and dirt roads right after school was out on Friday and then come back on Sunday afternoon. Dad wouldn't let me go too often because he said every time I went there, Grandpa Kay said I ate too much and wanted a $5.00 bill for the food. One summer he went back to Paris Crossing and there he died and was buried at Deputy, I believe.

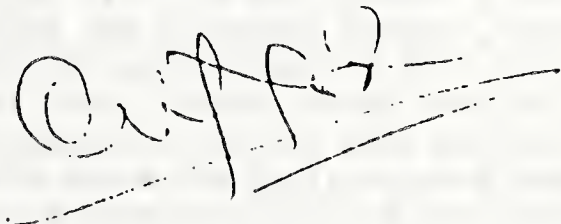

Grandpa Key's wife, I can't even think of her name, died, before they went to Georgia and Grandpa Key never remarried. He had it made, however, enough kids in Georgia and Indiana, so he could summer in Indiana and winter in Georgia without board expense. Aunt Clara remained there with us in our home.

When Grandma ~~Miller~~^{KAY} died, there was Walter, Fred, Everett, and Clara at home, all kids. My mother ^{was} just over 12 years of age and had to drop out of school to keep house, wash the dirty brother's clothes, and cook for them. She didn't quite get through the sixth grade. Fact of the matter is I don't think any of the Kays got beyond grade school. Grandpa Key ran a general country, dry goods, harness, grocery store at Paris Crossing, Indiana, before he went to Georgia. This was why Uncle Walter, first came back to Indiana from Georgia, then Fred and Everett. Uncle Fred bought and butchered cattle for sale in his market, which is difficult to do in these days of sanitation. I am not sure whether Fred went to Georgia and then returned to Indiana, where he married Cecilia Wilson or not. Anyway, they came to Georgia, after they were married, and Hester was born in Fitzgerald, Georgia, I used to kid her about being just a "damned Georgia Cracker," and she sure used to get mad and say, she wasn't, she was a Yankee. Later on when she grew up and went to Indianapolis to Teacher's College, she learned that Southern girls were quite a curiosity and everyone loved them, so she came home to Newtown one week end when I was there, with a very effected Southern drawl and told me that she was quite proud of her southern birth right, and was learning how to talk with a Southern accent.

Well, if you can read this, you may get some of the history of the Key clan. My typewriter is about fifty years old and it doesn't spell too well sometimes and doesn't keep its words separate as they should be. I am not quite sure a new typewriter would be any better.

Love to all of you,

Clifford and Penny Miller

Dear Miss Luke:

Your letter of August 25 concerning the Kay genealogy was very interesting and I will do what I can to help you and Charles out.

Aunt Clara Kay's name is now Mrs. Marion R. Alston, and the last address I have for her in 1977, is 1208 Crescent Drive, Berry, Georgia, 31069. Please change your listing to Alston, not Olstrom.

Thomas and Lucy Kay died in Paris Crossing, Indiana, and are probably buried in Depputy, Indiana, where I believe they had a family burial plot.

Children: (A) Walter Wife "Aunt Mag" Deceased Paris Crossing, Indiana.

Son: Bill (Probably William) Died about 1920

D. Lucy Still living so far as I know.

Had several children. Lived in central Illinois and Indiana.

Two sons, twins, died in infancy. (Names are not known)

(B) Fred Kay married Celia Wilson, about a third cousin to Woodrow Wilson, former president of the United States. She and daughter Hester looked just like the president in facial characteristics.

Children: Hester Kay Born (); died about 1965 and was probably buried in Newtown, Indiana. She was born in Fitzgerald, Georgia, about 1904 or 1905, and her parents and she moved back to Indiana when she was less than a year old, as I was told. Anyway I was born in Fitzgerald, Georgia, in 1899, and when I went to Indiana to live with Fred and his family, I kidded Hester about being nothing but a Georgia Cracker, which is the State designation for people born in that state. Oh, my, did she get into a uproar about that and I continued to kid her about it, until she went to teacher's college in Indianapolis where the girls learned she was born in the South and they just fell in love with her as from that time, she bragged about being of Southern heritage. Hester was never married and died an old maid.

Jack Kay was either born in Paris Crossing or in Newtown, Indiana. I don't know. Anyway his father moved from Southern Indiana to Newtown to operate a butcher shop and grocery store.

I could tell Charles so many interesting stories about his father, Jack., who was always getting into situations. His sister Hester received a very expensive bottle of perfume from a boy friend and was so happy with it. In Newtown they used to have a large building where the basket ball games were held. They used a large wood stove for heat. On this one night the heat got away from them just before the game and burned down to the ground. However, Jack never let it be said that he did anything half way, so before going over to the gym, he got Hester's bottle of perfume out and poured about ~~one-half~~ one-half of the bottle on his coat, and when he walked into the gym and stood up near the stove, nearly everyone had to leave because the perfume aroma went all over the place like askunk's scent. ~~d~~ Hester just cried and cried about it.

Another time Jack bet his Dad that he could pick the Memorial Day auto race winner~~d~~ but he would have to pick one too.. The bet was a new Stetson hat. about two days before the race, Jack came into the butcher shop wearing the most expensive Stetson hat he could buy in Attica, and when asked where he got it, he said he knew he was ~~w~~right in picking the winner so he just over and bought his Stetson ahead of time. And He did win the bet.

Well, toodle ooooo.

Sincerely,

kClifford P. Miller and Penelope L. Miller.

Efforts were made to discover the parents of James Harvey Wilson, but neither wills nor census records were helpful. He was born in Graham Township, Jennings Co., In. February 11, 1832, and was married to Helena J. Smyth November 24, 1853. Helena predeceased James February 12, 1875 and there are also no records of her parents and only the indication in census records that she was born in Indiana.

On June 21, 1876 he married, second, Milly J. Fish who is listed by records of her previous marriage to Henry C. Fish as Milia J. Hudson. Milly also predeceased James and in her will probated May 27, 1902 named a son, S.M. Fish and a grandson B. C. Fish. Milly and James had no children.

James Harvey and Helena J. (Smyth) Wilson had four children but names of three are all that are known to us. Helena was buried in the cemetery known as Paris or Cave-Dixon near Paris, In., and there was also buried in that cemetery their child, John Henry, who died aged 7 years 1 month and 27 days on March 6, 1863. Possibly Nettie Wilson, buried in the Paris Cemetery may have been a sister of James H. Wilson.

In his will probated March 31, 1905 James H. Wilson named in addition to his stepson and step grandson, E. S. Wilson (Edgar Smith Wilson) and Elizabeth Deputy, his son and daughter. It is not known, but probably Elizabeth was the wife of William T. Deputy who witnessed the will of James H. Wilson.

James H. Wilson and his second wife were buried in Coffee Creek Christian Church Cemetery, which lies west and north of Paris Crossing. This is also the resting place of Thomas Jr. and Lucy A. (Sawyer) Kay. James died March 9, 1905, at 73 years and 29 days.

Edgar Smith Wilson, son of James H. Wilson and his first wife, Helena Smyth, was born in Paris, In. June 21, 1854 and died May 8, 1916 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fred Kay, at Newtown, In. He was first married November 8, 1873 to Hester Perry, born in Indiana in 1854. They had four daughters, Cecilia, Blanch, Pearl and a daughter who died in infancy. By his second wife, Amy Hudson, to whom he was married December 26, 1893 he again had four daughters, Marie, Marguerite, Edith and Lillian. Possibly the child Millie, born in 1895 and died in 1899 may have been Marie, said in the obituary of E.S. Wilson to have died in infancy.

The Covington Lions Club wishing to honor the memory of a Past President of the Club, now designates the annual Free Throw Trophy as the:

THE FOREST 'JACK' KAY MEMORIAL AWARD.

Forest 'Jack' Kay, was a graduate of the Newtown High School. As a student he engaged in the school's athletic program of the period. He was not exceptional nor was he outstanding as an athlete. A fact he knew and recognized.

As the years passed, his interest in competitive team sports was as a patron and spectator. Time did not dampen his ardor nor lessen his enthusiasm for such activities.

He gave many hours of his time, and many years of service in his endeavor to inspire young men to greater accomplishments. In doing this he left precious memories that do not die and cannot be destroyed.

Jack Kay was a loyal and hard working Lion. But more, he was a good man, a faithful sports fan, an honest citizen, and a true friend to all. The recipient of this award would do well to emulate him in this respect. No greater eloquence could be paid to his memory.

OBITUARY.

Edgar Smith Wilson, the son of James H. and Helena Wilson, was born at Paris, Indiana June 21, 1854 and died May 8, 1916 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fred Kay at Newtown, Indiana--aged 61 years, 10 months and 17 days. On November 8, 1873 he was united in marriage to Hester Perry. This union was blessed with four children, namely Mrs. Cecile Kay of Newtown, Mrs. Blanch Hudson of North Vernon, Mrs. Pearl Walker of Paris, and one daughter who died in infancy. On December 26, 1893 he was married a second time to Amy Hudson. Four children came likewise to brighten this home, namely, Marie who died in infancy, Marguerite, Edith, and Lillian. He is survived by the wife, six children, fifteen grand-children, and one great-grandchild.

In early life Mr. Wilson became united with the Methodist Episcopal church at Paris later transferring to the same denomination in Butlerville. He was made a Mason and an Odd Fellow in the respective lodges at Paris Crossing. A devoted husband, kind father, good citizen and gentleman, a devout Christian throughout life, and a true brother in the fraternities, his departure has left a void that none can fill.

1900 Census, Montgomery Twp., Jennings Co., In.

Fred Kay, born in July, 1878, age 22 at the time, born in In. He was listed as a boarder in the household of A. McClanahan. None of the rest of the family was listed. However, in Lovett Twp., in the home of William McGuire there were listed Burney Kay, b. Sept. 1881, Daune, born July 1879 and Edna born Aug. 1887. Daune was called the daughter of McGuire and they all may have been his step-children.

In the marriage records we found the record of marriage of Edna Kay and that she was the daughter of John and Darthula (James) Kay. Therefore, it would appear that Burney, Duane and Edna were children of John Kay, brother of Thomas Kay, Jr.

My Dear Miss Luke =
I am afraid I can't add much to your interest in the Kays as my father talked very little about his family to me - I understood he and his only brother, John, came over ^{to} the States by Boat with their parents when they were quite young - however he told me he was only 11 years old when the war came on - my mother was Lucy Sawyer and they had six children - I know my father was never married

after her death, as for his "father, my "grand father", I could-not say for I never knew or heard about it. We moved South when I was quite a little from where I grew up - and in later years married - my father visited me quite often but never spoke of his Parents - So as it seems I like every body else - do not know about them - I have always thought of them as a real English family - but knew no little -

I am really sorry I have not written you before this time - but I am not so well - have arthritis in my left hand and can't write very well and some in my right side - So please excuse this poorly written letter - my Nephew Clifford is a great fellow I love him very much - He was one of my Sister's only two children -

Again I must thank you for your letter and interest in our family - hope Charles can, some day find out something about them - I thank you again -
Best Wishes - Mrs Marion Alston -

THE SMITH FAMILY

The Smith family history was done by Ruby (Smith) Miller, but we have made some additions. Mrs. Mark Smith of Mellott, In., also has contributed to the history.

Puby and Mrs. Mark Smith had the information that James Smith, son of Joseph and Sarah (_____) Smith, was born in England and, after he came to the United States, he made several trips back to England to get a small inheritance. Stella Trimmer called me from Denver on May 16, 1979 and she said James Smith was not born in England but near McKendrie, in Vermilion County, Il, and his brothers and sister lived there too. If the 1850 census of Vermilion County, Il. is correct, Joseph Smith was not born in England, either. This shows:

Joseph Smith	age 56, Farmer	B. Ten. (b. 1794)
Sarah	" 54	Ten. (b. 1796)
Jesse	20	Ten. (b. 1830)
Roger?	19	Il. (b. 1831)
Elizabeth?	18	Il. (b. 1832)
Enoch	14	Il. (b. 1836)
James	12	Il. (b. 1838)

Census records are not always correct, particularly when the information was not given by the head of the household or the wife. An amazing number of people do not know their parents' ages nor where they were born. In this instance I think it is reasonable to assume that the record may have been given by Jesse or one of the other children who assumed their parents were born in Tennessee, probably having heard a lot about the years in that state. Names of two of the children are questioned because the census was blurred and almost illegible. We are fairly certain about Elizabeth but Roger is questioned.

Stella also said James Smith farmed 80 acres and his sister lived with him. Stella was in college when James went back to England, and that is the only time she knows of his returning to that country. He went with Tom Smith. Included herein is a copy of a letter James Smith wrote to Stella on this trip.

All the children of James Smith were by his first wife, Mary Ann Cook. His second wife had two sons, James and Mark Lewis, and James Lewis was weigh master at the Chicago Stock Yards and gave market reports over WLS at noon for several years.

Mrs. Mark Smith said the son Jesse, who died young, was killed in a farm accident. Stella added that he was working in the fields and a harrow ran over and killed him. Stella also told me that the Cook family lived around Fairmount, Il.

Ruby also had an account of the Cook family written in 1915 by Joseph Franklin Crosby, a grandson of the first known John Cook. He gave a detailed account of the family, even to the ages at death of John and Elizabeth (Black) Cook but did not give dates of death. There also were no dates for the children but Ruby had dates for James Cook, her research does not say but I think from inscriptions in McKendrie Cemetery. The history by Joseph F. Crosby was copied and sent to Ruby by a cousin, Daisy (Cook) Nesbitt. A copy of this, of Ruby's family notes and her notes from the Cook and Smith family Bibles is included herein.

A copy of Alderson family research given to Ruby by Mary (Hedges) Reiner of Portland, Ore. is enclosed, but a more detailed research of that family will be sent to Charles by Mrs. Reiner.

Handwritten text on lined paper, likely a page from a notebook or ledger. The text is written in cursive and appears to be a list or account of items, possibly related to a business or inventory. The entries are separated by horizontal lines. The text is mostly illegible due to the extreme blurriness of the image, but some words like "Handwritten" and "List" are faintly visible.

OBITUARY OF

MARY J. MURRAY ALDERSON

November 12, 1911

Mary J., daughter of James and Amanda Murray, was born near Little Rock, Arkansas, March 20, 1850. Being left an orphan at the age of four years, she made her home with her uncle, and grew to womanhood near that city. At the close of the war she moved to the vicinity of Perrysville, Indiana, and on June 18, 1866, she was united in marriage to William A. Alderson, a soldier of the Civil War. They resided in the vicinity of Perrysville; about thirty years ago they purchased a farm near Georgetown, Illinois where they resided until the death of her husband, March 26, 1892, after which she sold her farm and resided at different places until her death which occurred very suddenly of heart failure on November 12, 1911, at her home near Bloomingdale, Indiana. Mrs. Alderson was the mother of eight children, three of them preceding her in death, one who died in infancy, Bertha Alice, aged three, and Lacy E., at the age of 20 years. Those still living are Mrs. Frances Cook, of near Sylvania, Indiana, Mrs. Grace Smith, living near McKindree, Dewey Alderson, near Sylvania, Indiana, Blanche living at home, and Vernon living at Tangier, Indiana. Mrs. Alderson was buried at McKindree Cemetery.

Cook Family Record.

My grand father, John Cook, was born in Scotland: was of Scotch-Irish decent. When a young man he came to America and settled in Penn. about 1770.

He married Elizabeth Black, my grandmother. To this union were born ten children: seven boys, and three girls. The two oldest boys, John and William were in the war of 1812. From cold and exposure, they contracted disease from which they died soon after returning home.

Their children were all born in the state of Penn. About 1810 or 1812 they moved to the state of Ohio, and settled in Clair Mount (Clermont) County on a place called Bull Skin. Their nearest trading point was a place called Felicity, eighteen miles away. I have heard my mother say that she often rode and back on horseback.

Larkin, Green + James Cook settled in an early day in the state of Illinois, near a place called Brook's Point, a few miles south of Danville, the county seat of Vermilion County. They all had large families, but all have passed away. Jackson Cook moved in an early day, from the state of Ohio and settled in Fulton County, Illinois. He had a large family. I never met any of his family but one boy. I met him in 1864 at Nashville, Tennessee. He was then on his way to the front. Many years afterward I heard that he had returned home from the war and was engaged in the furniture business somewhere in the western part of this state. He had a large family of boys and girls, but I suppose they have all passed away.

Rudolph Cook moved from Ohio about 1850, and settled in Iowa. His farm joined on the north line of the state of Missouri: south east corner of the state, second county from the corner west. I called to see them in the fall of 1854. Their youngest child Mary was at home: she was about sixteen years old. I met three or four of the boys. Two of them were married. The oldest boy and girl had, some years before moved to California. I suppose all the family have passed away.

Elizabeth Cook, the oldest daughter of my grandfather married James Watson. They always lived in Ohio, and had a large family: but all have passed away.

Eliza Cook married a brother of James Watson, Elizabeth's husband. They had three children when her husband died. She then married a man named Leonard Trissler. They had five children: two boys and three girls. The oldest girl, Mary Cox, died in 1911. She was the last of the family living.

Mary Cook, my mother, married Joseph Crosby. He was reared in Kentucky. To this union were born nine children: five boys and four girls. Three of them were born in Ohio. The others in the state of Indiana.

They moved from Ohio to Indiana in 1833, and located in Shelby County, Sugar Creek Township, near the town of Boggs. The oldest boy Jackson, died in Ohio with croup when three years old. The youngest boy died in infancy. The others all grew to manhood & womanhood. They have all passed away but two: my youngest sister Susan Frances Crosby Mc. Gregor and myself, Joseph Franklin Crosby. I forgot to mention that my grandmother was born of Dutch parentage and could talk German when a young woman. She died in the state of Ohio when past seventy-five years of age. My grandfather, John Cook, died in Ohio at the age of fifty five years. He contracted fever which caused his death. I have heard my mother say that grandfather had not lost a tooth, and did not have a gray hair in his head at the time of his death.

Grandfather became somewhat superstitious: when on his farm in Ohio one fall, he killed all the cats on the place and the next spring lost five head of good horses: all died. He thought it was bad luck sent on him for killing the cats, and never would allow a cat killed on the farm after that.

This is written from memory of what my mother told me when a boy at home on the farm and from my own personal knowledge.

Dated, March 25, 1915. Soldiers Home, Quincy, Illinois
Joseph Franklin Crosby.

Mr. Crosby, who gave us this history of the Cook family, passed away April 1, 1917.

His sister, Susan Mc Gregor, died Feb. 13, 1926.

This was written and given to me by Daisy Cook Nesbitt - a Cousin

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general
2. introduction of the subject, and to a statement of the
3. objects of the present investigation. It is shown that
4. the problem is of great importance, and that it has
5. not yet been completely solved. The author then
6. proceeds to a detailed examination of the various
7. methods which have been proposed for its solution,
8. and to a comparison of their merits and demerits.
9. It is found that the most satisfactory method is 10. that proposed by Mr. Smith, and that it is
11. the only one which is both simple and accurate.
12. The author then gives a full description of the 13. apparatus which he has used for the purpose of
14. verifying the results of Mr. Smith's experiments,
15. and of the manner in which they have been
16. conducted. It is shown that the results are
17. in perfect agreement with those of Mr. Smith,
18. and that they confirm his conclusions.
19. The author then discusses the various
20. applications of the results of his investigation,
21. and shows that they are of great value in
22. the solution of many practical problems.
23. Finally, he gives some suggestions for
24. further research, and concludes by stating
25. that he believes his investigation to be
26. one of the most important which has
27. been conducted in this field for many
28. years.
